Loose Cannon Is:

Liz

Lead Vocal, Harmony Vocal, Percussion, Jokes

Musical History: Liz has gone, musically, from pop to classic country, and now to rock! She will sing for anyone who will listen (and pay, of course). Her dream job is to be a comedian, but being a part of Loose Cannon is right up there, too! So, if you see her at a show, tell her a few jokes to add to her collection!

Wally

Lead Vocal, Harmony Vocal, Guitar, Keys

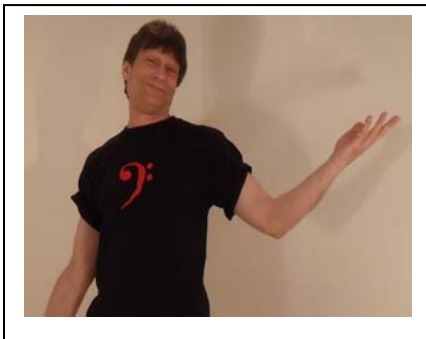

Musical History: Wally was a keyboard player in his first band while still in high school. Prior to Loose Cannon, Wally was the lead singer/rhythm guitar player for several top Minneapolis bands, including The Roy Rogers Band. As Singer, Guitarist, Keyboardist, and percussionist he is Loose Cannon's "Utility Player".

Gene

Lead Guitar, Harmony Vocal

Musical History: Gene's been playing a good long time and "If it sounds good, it is good" defines his approach to music. He's been known to "borrow" a lick or two here and there. Gene's been involved in the Minneapolis music scene since he moved here in 1993. He also writes and records his own material. He never wants to grow up.

JV

Bass Guitar, Harmony Vocal

Musical History: Jim began his career playing for local dance bands at a young age. By 1976 he was working with Fragile, an almost legendary Minneapolis rock group. The Generators & the Retro Rockers followed. Jim then toured with Lip Service working at resorts & casinos around the Country. Today, Jim is glad to be part of Loose Cannon.

Bo

Drums, Percussion, Vocal Harmony

History: Bo migrated to Minnesota from Illinois in the late 70's. He's been goofing off in Minneapolis ever since. He's worked with such notable bands as the Wetspots, The White Sidewalls, Roman Holiday, Mr. Mojo Risin' and Euphoria. He also sports a really spiffy drum set!
